ASPINAL of LONDON

English Heritage

We define timeless and refined English elegance through our collections of exquisitely crafted leather goods of the finest quality. This is at the heart of our brand and all that we stand for. Aspinal is an old English name, originating from the ancient term 'Aspen-well' meaning a copse of Aspen trees near a water well. We called ourselves Aspinal of London as this represents nature, strength and generosity as depicted in our heraldic inspired logo.

A Collaboration Built On Shared Values

Aspinal of London has announced a new collaboration with an acclaimed British fashion designer Patrick McDowell, debuted at London Fashion Week in September 2025. The collection brings together a shared commitment to timeless craftsmanship, sustainable practices and the power of British manufacturing. Sixteen bags, a silk scarf, and a pair of black velvet slippers make up the collection, with pieces designed exclusively for the runway and limited-edition styles available to purchase, each finished with a co-branded plaque.

The Queen Elizabeth II Award for Design was presented to Patrick McDowell by HRH Princess of Wales, in September 2025.

Passion for Sustainability

We are proud to create timeless, long-lasting and responsible luxury. We are equally proud of our commitment to act consciously as a business to lessen our environmental impact and create positive change to the world we live in. We are refining our whole way of working to make Aspinal of London as sustainable a brand as we can make it. Our Sustainability Strategy, Bee Aspinal, details our commitments business-wide, split into our four Ps: Product, Planet, Partnership and People.

Hotelier Fragrance

ENGLISH FIG

Indulge in the captivating allure of Musky Fig, where the opening vibrant zest of tangerine and bergamot intertwines with the sweetness of blackcurrant.

At the heart, fig leaves blend harmoniously with the aromatic essence of cardamom, evoking a sense of refreshing greenness. As the scent unfolds, a velvety accord of fig milk and musk wraps you in a comforting embrace, while the deep warmth of vetiver leaves a lingering and irresistible trail.

A dynamic scent, the fragrance has a beguiling universal appeal, created for both him and her.
